

Berlin Historical Society Minutes of July 27, 2010

The July meeting of the Berlin Historical Society was sparsely attended with only four members present. They were: Maudean and Lewis Neill, Norb Rhinerson and Richard Turner.

We discussed the Vermont History Expo and were all pleased with our presentation. We felt that our exhibit that was built around the 1860 agricultural census in Berlin was one of the more interesting ones there. Maudean Neill spent many hours preparing the exhibit that had many artifacts that were common to that time of our history.

We copied a picture of Ashael Nye from the e-bay listings but did not bid on it because the price was already $75 when we discovered it. Ashael lived during the mid 1800's and as the story that accompanied the picture related, was the uncle of the person who saw men carrying the body at the site of the murder next to Berlin Pond in 1838.

Elene Sartel sent a nice note to the local papers saying “thank you” to all those that sent cards to her on her 90th birthday.

Respectfully Submitted,
