

DEWEY - WRIGHT CEMETERY

This is a beautiful cemetery on Rowell Hill, off Route 12 in the Dog River Valley. This cemetery is fenced but the fence on the lower side along the embankment has begun to slip down the hill.

Rowell Hill is two and one half miles from Montpelier, south toward Northfield. It turns left off the Northfield Road (Route [1]2), crosses the Dog River and the railroad tracks and continues on up the hill.

The condition of this cemetery is pretty good. Only a few broken or fallen stones. Some have recently been repaired. The fence sadly needs paint and repair.

There is a gate into the cemetery from the road and a simple roadway runs through to the back side dividing the cemetery into two sections. I have started listing the stones from the lower or west side of the cemetery and have worked toward the back section. I have made note of where the road separates the two sections.

Listing was completed in May of 1987, by Jennie and Harold Woodbury.
