Public Comment

JL introduced himself as a property owner on Route 302. With the recent zoning regulation changes, he requested the Commission review their thought process in determining the boundary line between Commercial and Mixed Use Districts on Route 302. He suggests that Tax Map information available at the time the new zoning map was created was in error and if known likely the border line may have been drawn differently.

KN instructed staff to pull historic and current documents on this matter and distribute to the Commission before the next meeting.
